ARMY TOO SMALL FOR THEIR WANTS

Unable to Hold Territory Already Won Because of the Inadequacy of Our Forces in the Islands.

Manila, May 27. — The events of the past week have emphasized the need of a much larger army here, without which, according to the best authorities in Manila, it would be attempting the impossible to expect to establish American supremacy in the Philippine islands. The inadequacy of the American forces is said to be responsible for the large total of small encounters, without material results as a compensation. Most of the fighting has been done in the territory which the Americans had swept, but had been compelled to abandon because they could not spare troops to hold it.

The forces commanded by Gens. Mac-Arthur and Lawton held two important lines of communication and commerce, the railroad to San Fernando and the Rio Grande river. But much of the country they have swept, including scores of the smaller towns and some of the larger ones, have been left uncon-

AN IMPORTANT STEP.

It Is Taken by Committee on Arbitration of Peace Congress.

AN INTERESTING SESSION IS HELD.

Results In What Is Considered to Be Unanimous Acceptance of the General Principle of Arbitration and Mediation.

The Hague, May 27.—The disarmament committee met Friday morning, and M. Beernaert, chief of the Belgian delegation, who presided, set forth the points submitted for consideration. The two sections immediately divided and proceeded to a discussion of the questions of firearms and explosives, which continued till the hour for adjournment.

The arbitration committee met in the afternoon, under the presidency of the chief of the French delegation, Leon Bourgeois, who was flanked by the honorary presidents of the committee, Sir Julian Pauncefote, chief of the British legation, and Count Nigra, chief of the Italian delegation. M. Bourgeois presented the questions of mediation and arbitration, and suggested a programme the committee might follow, urging recourse to all pacific means to settle international questions before a recourse to war. He submitted a long list of possible subjects of dispute which might arise between nations and yet might find solution in arbitration, closing with the more difficult problems. He then presented a scheme already introduced to the full conference by a Russian delegate, a scheme consisting of 40 articles. The statement of M. Bourgeois was clear and concise, commanding the closest attention.

Sir Julian Pauncefote proposed that the committee should immediately proceed, before all else, to consider the question of a permanent tribunal of arbitration. He did not, however, submit any plan, and eventually withdrew his motion, in view of the suggestions offered by Count Nigra and others, who urged the wisdom of following the programme of the president, in which the question of a permanent tribunal follows the general subject of arbitration.

Puts Committee on Record.
M. Bourgeois observed that the committee, by not opposing it, gave adhesion to the principle favoring a peaceful solution of international questions before a recourse to arms.

Recognizing that the committee was too large to consider the Russian proposals, M. Bourgeois appointed the following subcommittee: Chevalier Des-camps-David; of the Belgian delegation; Prof. Asser, privy councillor of the Netherlands delegation; Baron Estournelles de Constant, of the French delegation; Frederick Holls, secretary of the United States delegation; M. Lammasch, of the Austro-Hungarian delegation; Prof. Maertens, of the Russian delegation; M. E. Odier, of the Swiss delegation, and Dr. Zorn, of the University of Konigsberg, representing the German delegation. Sir Julian Pauncefote and Count Nigra were appointed honorary presidents of the subcommittee, and M. Bourgeois and M. de Staal were empowered to attend its meetings. This arrangement gives representation to all the great powers, as well as to Holland, Belgium and Switzerland. Chevalier Descamps-David was appointed chairman of the subcommittee.

Great importance is attached to the meetings held to-day and to the unanimous acceptance of the general principle of arbitration and mediation.

At High Water Mark.
London, May 27.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at The Hague says:

"Peace prospects touched high-water mark to-day when the conference found itself face to face with arbitration in a practicable and acceptable form and as a permanent international achievement. This honor is mainly due to Sir Julian Pauncefote. When the members of the arbitration section had finished reading the Russian proposals on this subject Sir Julian expressed his complete approval of them, but said it would be a great pity if the conference failed to embody the principle of arbitration in some permanent shape.

"I now beg to propose," he said, "the formal establishment of a permanent arbitration tribunal, empowered to deal with all matters in dispute capable of reference to the judgment of an umpire. I do not intend to trouble you with details as to its mechanism to-day, nor until you accept the principle of my proposal. Therefore I ask you to accept the principle now." "M. de Staal at once declared: 'Sir Julian Pauncefote having presented his proposal, we are prepared to supplement and to complete the printed suggestions just distributed by others, dealing with a permanent arbitration board.' Thereupon the Russian president of the conference drew a paper from his pocket and laid it upon the table then and there. The paper contained the foundation of a permanent tribunal, suggesting the substitution of a new clause and referring to an appendix not yet drawn up. The amazed delegates crowded around Sir Julian, congratulating him upon having played the winning card, which had so quickly precipitated the Russian alternative scheme. Some stood aghast, as the matter was not contemplated in their instructions. Finally it was decided to refer the matter to a subcommittee.

"The Americans, it is believed, are elaborating an organic statute for the execution of a permanent tribunal, which will probably be laid before the conference and be supported by the British delegates when the principle embodied in Sir Julian's resolution is accepted."

Paris, May 27.—The minister of war, Camille Krantz, has issued stringent orders that no officer, either in civilian costume or in uniform, shall frequent the palace of justice or its precincts next week, during the public hearing of the demand for a revision of the Dreyfus trial. The public hearing of the demand for Dreyfus' revision is expected to open on Monday next. The speeches will probably occupy four days, and the decision be given on June 2 or June 3.

ARMY TOO SMALL FOR THEIR WANTS

Unable to Hold Territory Already Won Because of the Inadequacy of Our Forces in the Islands.

Manila, May 27.—The events of the past week have emphasized the need of a much larger army here, without which, according to the best authorities in Manila, it would be attempting the impossible to expect to establish American supremacy in the Philippine islands. The inadequacy of the American forces is said to be responsible for the large total of small encounters, without material results as a compensation. Most of the fighting has been done in the territory which the Americans had swept, but had been compelled to abandon because they could not spare troops to hold it.

The forces commanded by Gens. MacArthur and Lawton held two important lines of communication and commerce, the railroad to San Fernando and the Rio Grande river. But much of the country they have swept, including scores of the smaller towns and some of the larger ones, have been left uncovered simply for want of men to hold them, and the insurgents have returned and are occupying the towns the Americans abandoned, and are camping in the jungles and woods outside others, on the watch for chances to harass the garrisons and attack scouting parties or detached companies with greater forces. This is the kind of warfare they prefer to regular battles.

Foreigners who have arrived here from the insurgents' country, under the recent order of expulsion, say the cemeteries in all the towns are filled with fresh graves. A majority of the Filipinos wounded die, because the insurgent hospitals are inadequate, medicines are scarce, and they have few surgeons, except Spanish captives who have been impressed.

Evacuated by Spaniards.

Madrid, May 27.—The minister of war, Gen. Polavieja, has received a dispatch announcing the evacuation of Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, by the Spanish garrison. The dispatch further said that, as the Spaniards had declined to assent to the Filipinos' demands, that the arms and munitions of war should be surrendered with the city, fighting ensued, the Spaniards suffering some loss. The dispatch adds that the natives continue bitterly opposed to the idea of American annexation, and that the conquest of Mindanao will prove to be a tough task.

ENTERED AT THE P. O. AT ANN ARBOR AND YPSILANTI AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.

THE TIMES' NEW QUARTERS.

The Evening Times and the Inland Press Printing and Publishing Co. have effected a combination by which the latter leases, for a term of years, The Times' presses and linotype machines and does the typesetting and printing for the paper.

By this arrangement the Inland Press will be in position to do composition for its large amount of book work in short order, giving it a new face of type for every book or pamphlet which it prints. Heretofore all books and pamphlets printed in Ann Arbor have been set in type, by hand, which is not in keeping with the printing of books in other cities. The Inland Press people are to be congratulated upon their new venture, which will prove a satisfactory one to themselves and their patrons. This enterprising printing and publishing concern has just added to its already large plant the latest designs in job type, which, with the aid of the linotype machine, will enable them to do anything in the line of artistic printing.

Barring accidents to machinery, The Times will hereafter go to press promptly at 4 o'clock each day, which will place the paper in the hands of its readers at least half an hour before the Detroit dailies arrive in the city.

The personnel of The Times will remain the same as at present.

In order to be in position to issue The Times promptly on Monday, the Times' machinery will be removed to its new quarters today, which accounts for the scarcity of local news in this issue.

Hereafter, friends of The Times will please send items of news to its new rooms in the Inland Press building or Hennig block, corner of Huron st. and Fourth ave.

In the words of the enterprising advertiser, thanking you for past favors, we ask for a continuance of the same, and so forth, and so forth.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET.

At the inter-scholastic meet yesterday the preliminaries in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, and all the field events, were run off. The slight drizzle which preceded the meet made the track heavy, and undoubtedly diminished the crowd. The events were closely contested, but no remarkable time was made. Detroit and Ann Arbor made the best showing of any of the schools represented.

The bicycle races were run on the half mile track at Ypsilanti. Remarkably good time was made in the quarter-mile, Nummy, of Mt. Clemens, winning the third heat in 33 3-5. All the events were closely contested, the sprints in the mile being especially fast. Nummy, of Mt. Clemens, carried off the honors in these events, winning the quarter-mile and mile and securing second in the two mile, with a total of 13 points. Rappley, of Saginaw, W. S. won 5 points, getting second in the quarter mile and third in the mile and two-mile.

ALMOST FIFTY YEARS SERVICE.

"DOC" NAEGLIE TELLS OF A SLICK BODY SNATCHER.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON'S NEPHEW ONCE IN THE VAT.

Preparations are already being made to celebrate next year the semi-centennial of the medical department of the University.

Among all those who have been connected with the institution—there only remains one—"Doctor" Naegle—who will be the big feature of the celebration. He is now 78 years old, and if he lives till next year he will have swung that bell, which calls the medics to their classes, for just half a century. Only two days in all these years has he missed his duty, and then it was on account of a sprained ankle. There is now no necessity of the bell being rang, on account of the library clock announcing the hours of dismissal of classes, but it wouldn't seem like the medical department if Doc Naegle was not there with his bell, and he is allowed to do the same job each day now that he has performed for 49 years.

"Doc" Naegle has, during all these years, taken care of the bodies which come here for the dissecting room. He became used to his gruesome duties many years ago, and talks of the matter with no more reticence than a coal man would in conversing upon so much coal.

"I suppose you could tell some pretty good stories of the old days," suggested The Times to him this morning. There was a time when the University did not receive bodies of unclaimed persons who died within the state and county institutions.

"Oh, yes, you bet I could. But then I don't. It is just like the time I was called up to Flint fifteen or twenty years ago to testify. We got seven bodies from Flint, but after they were put in the boxes in the basement they were just like all the rest. I didn't know who they were or where they came from. And when the lawyers asked me I told them so. There was one student in the medical class that was the damnest man I ever knew. He was the worst graveyard thief I ever heard of. He got all those bodies from Flint. And I never will forget when the officers came here how he sat on the fence in front of the building. He was in disguise. He had on false whiskers. He just looked at them and watched them, but they never knew the man they wanted was so close by.

"And I never will forget one morning he and I was standing out here (in front of the medical buildings). A funeral was going by up to the cemetery. That fellow just went on ahead and walked where the body was being buried. He had a horse and buggy outside the cemetery. After the mourners and family turned away and left the grave, he got down in, opened up the box and took the body out. Then he put the box cover down and he brought the body of the most beautiful young girl here to the medical college before the family had reached the corner of the campus where the gymnasium now is. He was a devil, that man was.

"But the worst scare I ever got was when we had ex-President Harrison's nephew in the vat. The newspapers didn't get hold of that. This same fellow brought the body here. The officers hunted all over the county but finally suspected that it was here. They came here and made me take out all the bodies from the vat. I said, 'Well, I left a glove on his hand and the officers identified it by that. The head officer told me he would give me $10 to fix him up nice for shipment. I did so, and then he told me that if I did not shut up about it they would have me in jail. My, but I was scared.

"But then we don't get as nice bodies now as we used to when they used to come from all over. The bodies that come now by the state law are mostly old people. The tissues are all dried up. We used to get nice young men and girls. I don't know what's going to be done if we don't get some better bodies."

And he went away to ring the bell, bemoaning the future of the medical department.

TWO MORE INJUNCTIONS AGAINST SALINE ROAD.

No electric line was ever yet started except the trolley line the Argo road.

DROWNED SIX MONTHS AGO BODY JUST BEEN FOUND.

BRIDGEWATER'S MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE CLEARED UP.

Since last November and up to yesterday one of the most mysterious disappearances ever reported in this county came from Bridgewater.

On Nov. 17, 1898, at dusk, Lewis Bischoff, Albert Westphal, Wm. Sanders and George Glotts, who had been hunting during the day, started to cross Joslyn lake in a boat against a brisk wind. The load was all the little skiff could carry and it dipped water more or less. Bischoff, who was said to be the worse for liquor, sat in the middle of the boat. A few rods from the shore Bischoff became restless in his sitting posture and rose to his feet, thus rocking the boat and causing it to dip still more. The men spoke to him to sit down, but he would not. Finally one of them, with an oar, struck him across the rump, whereupon he said, "I'll give you all the water you want," and stepped upon the edge of the boat, thus capsizing it and sprang into the lake. It was a cold, windy night and the men were heavily dressed and with rubber boots, and were in poor swimming condition. They scattered, but soon after, with the exception of Bischoff, all swam and drifted to a sand bar a few rods distant. The boat was righted and they pursued their journey to the shore, where they summoned assistance and with lanterns searched the banks, but with no rescue or trace of the missing companion. The lake was dragged by men hopeful of getting some trace, but only the three guns, Bischoff's hat and one mitten were found. News was sent to his father, who lives in New York, and the surprising answer came back that there was not enough water in the lake to drown the son. Many looked upon the affair as a most peculiar one, and with some there always has been a lingering thought whether the man was in the lake or not, and if not, had he any purpose in view when he tipped the boat.

Yesterday afternoon a boy was fishing on the lake and came across the body floating near the surface. A portion of the head was above the water and it was seen that a part of the nose was gone, but the rest of the countenance looked as presentable as might be expected after the body had been in the water for over half a year. The body is badly bloated.

The boy immediately rowed to the shore and reported his discovery. Sheriff Gillen and Coroner Watts were notified last night and this morning went to the scene. The body was not removed from the water and will not be until Coroner Watts reaches there and orders it to be done.

The main purposes of the inquest will be to identify the body as that of Lewis Bischoff.

"NYDIA" ROOM TORN AWAY.

OLD LANDMARK AT THE U. OF M. IS GONE.

A STORY OF RANDOLPH ROGERS THE SCULPTOR.

One of the oldest landmarks about the University grounds, and one which all the old students for the past 40 years will remember, is being torn down.

It is the small annex to the north wing of the main building, and which for a number of years was known as the "Nydia" room, on account of it being the place where Randolph Rogers' famous statue was exhibited.

In 1856 a part of the north wing, which had hitherto been occupied by students as a dormitory, was entirely remodeled and the whole of the central part of the building was filled up for occupation for the library and various collections belonging to the University. The library was on the first floor and remained until the completion of the law building in 1862.

In 1856 a collection of fine arts was commenced through the generosity of Prof. H. S. Frieze, and consisted of busts and copies of busts which he had gathered in Europe, expending there $800, the amount of his salary over and above what it cost for his substitute. The next gift to the gallery was from the class of 1859, which presented the plaster cast of "The Lascion Group."

In the fall of 1859 was formed the "Rogers Art Association," its members being gentlemen and ladies of Ann Arbor, together with a number of professors. Its object was to purchase for the University art gallery a copy in marble of Randolph Rogers' statue "Nydia." Rogers had been an Ann Arbor boy and the association wished to honor the sculptor. There were even dreams of a Rogers gallery, where would be collected copies of all works of Ann Arbor's distinguished sculptor. Rogers was so pleased to know that his works were to find a place in his native town that he gave the terms for a copy of "Nydia" at $1,700, which was considered most favorable. This sum was raised by concerts, lectures, festivals and by charging an admission fee to the Nydia room for several years.

The statue was received in America in 1862 and was exhibited for a time in Detroit and then in the Union school in this city. It was finally put in the annex to the north wing, Rogers coming here from Rome especially to superintend the lighting.

While Rogers was here on this work one day two young ladies came into the Nydia room. They had evidently had a dispute as to whether the statue was marble or a plaster cast. One of the young ladies stepped up to the statue and tapped the marble with a large key. "There," said she triumphantly, "I told you so."

Rogers jumped as if he had been struck a violent blow on the face. "Young woman," said he, "do you want to put my eyes out?" "Why, no," she rather gasped. "Well," said Rogers, "I would rather you would than to do what you have just done."

The statue remained in the annex until 1883, when it was removed to the

DEPUTY SHERIFF KELSEY RESIGNS AND GOES BACK TO SALINE.

Deputy Sheriff O. H. Kelsey, who, in the short time he has been an officer, has proven himself possessed of a fine detective ability and a most efficient officer for the county, has resigned his position and has gone back to Saline.

When Mr. Kelsey came here he was in partnership in the livery business with Oscar Lampkins. The sad accident which deprived the latter of his life is well remembered. This left nobody to assume the management of the business at Saline, and Mrs. Kelsey has deemed it for his best interests to return there and conduct the business.

Since he has been a resident of Ann Arbor he has made friends with everybody except those who ought to be put in jail, the latter class having a great fear of his efficiency as an officer.

A SITE FOR THE HOMEOPS.

ANN ARBOR COUNCIL ASKED TO DONATE ONE.

CITIZENS' MEET AND PASS A RESOLUTION.

A meeting was held in the office of Judge Newkirk last evening and the following gentlemen were present: Mayor Luick, C. E. Hiscock, S. W. Beakes, Ald. Bliton, Ald. Stevens, Ald. Richards, Ald. Hamilton, Ald. Coon, T. J. Keech, L. J. Lisemer, Dr. Copeland, Dr. Hinsdale, Dr. Dewey, Dr. Kinyon, Dr. Ball, Harris Ball, A. H. Holmes, W. H. Butler, L. D. Carr, E. S. Gilmore, J. D. Ryan, E. F. Mills, Ottmar Eberbach, H. J. Brown, A. J. Sawyer, Judge Newkirk, P. J. Lehman, Robt. Campbell, W. J. Booth, Titus Hutzler.

They decided to ask the Ann Arbor common council, in order to show the appreciation of what the legislature had done in passing the one-fourth mill tax bill, to donate a site for a new homeopathic medical building, the same to be erected out of a portion of the annual proceeds coming to the University.

There are two sites most available for the homeopathic college. One is the Winchell property on N. University ave. which is held at $17,000. The other is the south property just off Washtenaw ave. This is held at $20,000, but it has the advantage of having a house on the five acres of ground and the house can be utilized for a home for the nurses.

If the council decides to adopt the resolution it is possible that what is known as Felch park may be donated if there are not great difficulties in the way. If not, they will have to fall back on one of the above pieces of land.

FOUR DEATHS; THREE OCCURRED AT SAME HOUR LAST NIGHT.

STORY OF JOHN OLIVER'S DEATH AT EL CANEY.

The death of John Oliver, a '99 law student, who lost his life at El Caney, is vividly described by a student comrade in the Michiganian.

"He had grown much weaker and his flushed face told of his extreme suffering. He tossed restlessly on his gray blanket, and at times in his delirium talked of Mac and Shep and other college chums. I sat by his side, heart-sore and anxious, regretting more than I can say that I had persuaded him into enlistment. Finally, he lay still and opened his eyes:

"Oh, it's you, Jim," he said, half smiling, then added,

"Been any more firing to-day?"

"I shook my head."

"Jim, it's all up with me. I'm done for."

"I could not keep back the tears. He noticed this—

"There, old fellow, never mind about me. There's many another of us will stay behind on this island, and mothers and—"

"He closed his eyes for a dozen minutes. I could see by the trembling movements of his lips that he was praying. When he again opened his eyes tears were in them.

"Jim," he said, in a husky voice, 'Jim, I'm going before long. When you go back to the boys at college tell them I—'

"He faltered here, and after a short space, continued:

"The chimes, Jim—I hear the University chimes. God—God is—kind Jim."

"Another pause, then:

"Oh, will you—your—hurry, Jim! Only three minutes left—and—I won't bolt. I can't—bolt—I—"

"But then an angel came down. And then angel and hero left me there alone."

THE REVISED SCHEDULE OF THE U. OF M. DATE S.

The Times herewith presents the revised baseball schedule. All other schedules heretofore published are incorrect:

May 27, Northwestern at Ann Arbor.
May 30, Wisconsin at Detroit.
June 1, Beloit at Ann Arbor.
June 3, Cornell at Ithaca.
June 5, Lafayette at Easton.
June 6, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.
June 10, Notre Dame at Ann Arbor.
June 16, Cornell at Ann Arbor.
June 17, Cornell at Grand Rapids.

Bees Carry Market Baskets.

Every bee carries his market basket round his hind legs. Anyone examining the body of a bee through a microscope will observe that on the hind legs of the creature there is a fringe of stiff hairs on the surface, the hairs approaching each other at the tips, so as to form a sort of cage. This is the bee's basket, and into it, after a successful journey, he will cram enough pollen to last him for two or three days.

Waste of Water.

In Philadelphia an experiment was recently made to determine the waste of water in the city. A test was made on the houses in two streets, which included nearly 600 inhabitants. It was found that 179 gallons of water per inhabitant were expended, it cannot be said used. This is about four barrels for each person, manifestly a great waste. Of the 179 gallons only 24 gallons were utilized.

To Prevent Sleep Walking.

A device to prevent sleep-walking is to lay upon the floor, by the side of the somnambulist's bed, a sheet of iron, zinc or other metal, wide enough to insure that he will step upon it. When the sleep-walking fit comes upon him his foot touches the cold surface of the metal and he instinctively draws that leg into the bed again. After two or three attempts the somnambulist gives it up and settles down to bed.

An Agricultural Exhibit.

Mr. J. B. Klechen, a member of the executive committee, has been placed in charge of the Agricultural exhibit at the Greater America exposition in Omaha, and $20,000 has been set aside for the payment of cash premiums for county displays in this department. There will be twenty-five prizes, ranging from $400 to $1,000, and every county making a creditable display will receive at least $200. As many counties have already arranged for collective agricultural exhibits through an inward desire and determination to exploit their best products and resources, this additional incentive will insure a large agricultural display.

presses and linotype machines and does the typesetting and printing for the paper.

By this arrangement the Inland Press will be in position to do composition for its large amount of book work in short order, giving it a new face of type for every book or pamphlet which it prints. Heretofore all books and pamphlets printed in Ann Arbor have been set in type, by hand, which is not in keeping with the printing of books in other cities. The Inland Press people are to be congratulated upon their new venture, which will prove a satisfactory one to themselves and their patrons. This enterprising printing and publishing concern has just added to its already large plant the latest designs in job type, which, with the aid of the linotype machine, will enable them to do anything in the line of artistic printing.

Barring accidents to machinery, The Times will hereafter go to press promptly at 4 o'clock each day, which will place the paper in the hands of its readers at least half an hour before the Detroit dailies arrive in the city.

The personnel of The Times will remain the same as at present.

In order to be in position to issue The Times promptly on Monday, the Times' machinery will be removed to its new quarters today, which accounts for the scarcity of local news in this issue.

Hereafter, friends of The Times will please send items of news to its new rooms in the Inland Press building or Hennig block, corner of Huron st. and Fourth ave.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET.

At the inter-scholastic meet yesterday the preliminaries in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, and all the field events, were run off. The slight drizzle which preceded the meet made the track heavy, and undoubtedly diminished the crowd. The events were closely contested, but no remarkable time was made. Detroit and Ann Arbor made the best showing of any of the schools represented.

The bicycle races were run on the half mile track at Ypsilanti. Remarkably good time was made in the quarter-mile, Nummely, of Mt. Clemens, winning the third heat in 33 3-5. All the events were closely contested, the sprints in the mile being especially fast. Nummely, of Mt. Clemens, carried off the honors in these events, winning the quarter-mile and mile and securing second in the two mile, with a total of 13 points. Rappley, of Saginaw, W. S., won 5 points, getting second in the quarter mile and third in the mile and two-mile.

J. C. Dodds, of Detroit, got second in the mile, and W. H. Dodds, of Detroit, third in the quarter-mile. Knapp, of Adrian, won the two-mile. Summaries: Nummely, Mr. Clemens, 13; Rappley, Saginaw, W. S., 5; Knapp, Adrian, 5; Detroit, J. C. Dodds, 3; W. H. Dodds, 1. An attempt was made to pull off the finals in the track and field events this morning, but rain interfered and they were postponed until this afternoon.

nal of the medical department of the University of Michigan. Among all those who have been connected with the institution—there only remains one—"Doctor" Naegle—who will be the big feature of the celebration. He is now 78 years old, and if he lives till next year he will have swung that 'bell, which calls the medics to their classes, for just half a century. Only two days in all these years has he missed his duty, and then it was on account of a sprained ankle. There is now no necessity of the bell being rung, on account of the library clock announcing the hours of dismissal of classes, but it wouldn't seem like the medical department if Doc. Naegle was not there with his bell, and he is allowed to do the same job each day now that he has performed for 49 years.

"Doc" Naegle has, during all these years, taken care of the bodies which come here for the dissecting room. He became used to his gruesome duties many years ago, and talks of the matter with no more reticence than a coal man would in conversing upon so much coal.

"I suppose you could tell some pretty good stories of the old days," suggested The Times to him this morning. "There was a time when the University did not receive bodies of unclaimed persons who died within the state and county institutions.

"Oh, yes, you bet I could. But then I don't. It is just like the time I found called up to Flint fifteen or twenty years ago to testify. We got seven bodies from Flint, but after they were put in the boxes in the basement they were just like all the rest. I didn't know who they were or where they came from. And when the lawyers asked me I told them so. There was one student in the medical class that was the damndest man I ever knew. He was the worst graveyard thief I ever heard of. He got all those bodies from Flint. And I never will forget when the officers came here how he sat on the fence in front of the building. He was in disguise. He had on false whiskers. He just looked at them and watched them, but they never knew the man they wanted was so close by.

"And I never will forget one morning he and I was standing out here in front of the medical buildings. A funeral was going by up to the cemetery. That fellow just went on ahead and watched where the body was being buried. He had a horse and buggy outside the cemetery. After the mourners and family turned away and left the grave, he got down in, opened up the box and took the body out. Then he put the box cover down and he brought the body of the most beautiful young girl here to the medical college before the family had reached the corner of the campus where the gymnasium now is. He was a devil, that man was.

"But the worst scare I ever got was when we had ex-President Harrison's nephew in the vat. The newspapers didn't get hold of that. This same fellow brought the body here. The officers hunted all over the country but finally suspected that it was here. They came here and made me take out all the bodies from the vat. Foolish-like, I left a glove on his hand and the officers identified it by that. The head officer told me he would give me $10 to fix him up nice for shipment. I did so, and then he told me that if I did not shut up about it they would have me in jail. My, but I was scared.

"But then we don't get as nice bodies now as we used to when they used to come from all over. The bodies that come now by the state law are mostly old people. The tissues are all dried up. We used to get nice young men and girls. I don't know what's going to be done if we don't get some better bodies."

And he went away to ring the bell, bemoaning the future of the medical department.

TWO MORE INJUNCTIONS AGAINST SALINE ROAD.

No electric line was ever yet started (except the jim-jams the Argus periodically gets) that did not have to run up against some injunction suits, but somehow when the courts get at them they are quickly dissolved.

The Ypsilanti & Saline electric railway, of which H. P. Glover and R. W. Hemphill are the promoters, are making a choice collection of injunction suits, but no fears are entertained but that the road will be built notwithstanding the continual harassing and delays.

John Sutherland, of Pittsfield, says his house is only 40 feet away from the proposed track, and this track runs so close to his fence that he cannot hitch between the track and his house, and he thinks his land has depreciated five hundred dollars, at least he says so in his bill of complaint. He was given a temporary injunction. Jacob Aray and Martha Day, who live in the same house, say "ditto" to most of what Sutherland says. But they have got a cider mill within 20 feet of the proposed track, and this cider mill grinds out 1,500 barrels of juice a year. They say that teams cannot very well cross the track and bring in the crop of apples. They were given a document just like Sutherland's.

There is a time for all things. The time to take DeWitt's Little Early Risers is when you are suffering from constipation, biliousness, sick-headache, indigestion or other stomach or liver troubles. W. N. Salisbury.

sprang into the lake. It was a cold, windy night and the men were heavily dressed and with rubber boots, and were in poor swimming condition. They scattered, but soon after, with the exception of Bischoff, all swam and drifted to a sand bar a few rods distant. The boat was righted and they pursued their journey to the shore, where they summoned assistance and with lanterns

"NYDIA" ROOM TORN AWAY.

OLD LANDMARK AT THE U. OF M. IS GONE.

A STORY OF RANDOLPH ROGERS THE SCULPTOR.

One of the oldest landmarks about the University grounds, and one which all the old students for the past 40 years will remember, is being torn down.

It is the small annex to the north wing of the main building, and which for a number of years was known as the "Nydia" room, on account of it being the place where Randolph Rogers' famous statue was exhibited.

In 1856 a part of the north wing, which had hitherto been occupied by students as a dormitory, was entirely remodeled and the whole of the central part of the building was filled up for occupation for the library and various collections belonging to the University. The library was on the first floor and remained until the completion of the law building in 1892.

In 1856 a collection of fine arts was commenced through the generosity of Prof. H. S. Prieze, and consisted of busts and copies of busts which he had gathered in Europe, expending therefor $800, the amount of his salary over and above what it cost for his subsistence. The next gift to the gallery was from the class of 1859, which presented the plaster cast of "The Lascou Group."

In the fall of 1859 was formed the "Rogers Art Association," its members being gentlemen and ladies of Ann Arbor, together with a number of professors. Its object was to purchase for the University art gallery a copy in marble of Randolph Rogers' statue "Nydia." Rogers had been an Ann Arbor boy and the association wished to honor the sculptor. There were even dreams of a Rogers gallery, where would be collected copies of all works of Ann Arbor's distinguished sculptor. Rogers was so pleased to know that his works were to find a place in his native town that he gave the terms for a copy of "Nydia" at $1,700, which was considered most favorable. This sum was raised by lectures, festivals and by charging an admission fee to the Nydia room for several years.

The statue was received in America in 1862 and was exhibited for a time in Detroit and then in the Union school in this city. It was finally put in the annex to the north wing. Rogers coming here from Rome especially to superintend the lighting.

While Rogers was here on this work one day two young ladies came into the Nydia room. They had evidently had a dispute as to whether the statue was marble or a plaster cast. One of the young ladies stepped up to the statue and tapped the marble with a large key. "There," said she triumphantly, "I told you so."

Rogers jumped as if he had been struck a violent blow on the face.

"Young woman," said he, "do you want to put my eyes out?" "Why, no," she rather gasped. "Well," said Rogers, "I would rather you would than to do what you have just done."

The statue remained in the annex until 1883, when it was removed to the present quarters. For some time after 1883 the Nydia room was used as a reading room and finally as a storeroom for mathematical instruments.

Many will regret to see the annex being torn down.

MAN AND HORSE KNOCKED DOWN BY THE LIGHTNING.

During the thunder storm this morning one of Weinmann's men was delivering goods on Thayer st. Leaving his horse standing at a post he went into a house with a parcel. A sudden flash of lightning struck the horse in the nose, cutting a terrible gash down the entire length. The animal fell to the ground stunned. A veterinary surgeon was summoned, and under his care the horse revived and will survive.

Five or six telephones of the New State Telephone Company was burned out, but the Bell Company escaped any injury.

An armature was burned out at the electric light works.

But Frank Pardon, the N. Main st. grocer, had the greatest surprise party. While he was out in the cutting room something which he describes as a "ball of fire" came into that portion of the building. He was knocked backward as if Fitzsimmons had put the finishing touches on him and it was sometime before he realized what had happened. Besides these incidents, no more damage or injury was done by the lightning as far as could be learned.

DEPUTY SHERIFF KELSEY RESIGNS AND GOES BACK TO SALINE.

Deputy Sheriff O. H. Kelsey, who, in the short time he has been an officer, has proven himself possessed of a fine detective ability and a most efficient officer for the county, has resigned his position and has gone back to Saline.

When Mr. Kelsey came here he was in partnership in the livery business with Oscar Lampkins. The sad accident which deprived the latter of his life is well remembered. This left no body to assume the management of the business at Saline, and Mrs. Kelsey has deemed it for his best interests to return there and conduct the business.

Since he has been a resident of Ann Arbor he has made friends with everybody except those who ought to be put in jail, the latter class having a great fear of his efficiency as an officer.

A SITE FOR THE HOMEOPS.

ANN ARBOR COUNCIL ASKED TO DONATE ONE.

CITIZENS MEET AND PASS A RESOLUTION.

A meeting was held in the office of Judge Newkirk last evening and the following gentlemen were present: Mayor Luick, C. E. Hiscock, S. W. Beakes, Ald. Bliton, Ald. Stevens, Ald. Richards, Ald. Hamilton, Ald. Coon, T. J. Keech, L. J. Lisemer, Dr. Copeland, Dr. Hinsdale, Dr. Dewey, Dr. Kinyon, Dr. Ball, Harris Ball, A. H. Holmes, W. H. Butler, L. D. Carr, E. S. Gilmore, J. D. Ryan, E. F. Mills, Otmar Eberbach, H. J. Brown, A. J. Sawyer, Judge Newkirk, P. J. Lehman, Robt. Campbell, W. J. Booth, Titus Hutzel.

They decided to ask the Ann Arbor common council, in order to show the appreciation of what the legislature had done in passing the one-fourth mill tax bill, to donate a site for a new homeopathic medical building, the same to be erected out of a portion of the annual proceeds coming to the University.

There are two sites most available for the homeopathic college. One is the Winchell property on N. University ave, which is held at $17,000. The other is the south property just off Washtenaw ave. This is held at $20,000, but it has the advantage of having a house on the five acres of ground and the house can be utilized for a home for the nurses.

If the council decides to adopt the resolution it is possible that what is known as Felch park may be donated if there are no great difficulties in the way. If not, they will have to fall back on one of the above pieces of land.

FOUR DEATHS; THREE OCCURRED AT SAME HOUR LAST NIGHT.

Since yesterday afternoon four deaths have occurred in this city, and by a very strange coincidence three of them happened at about the same hour (6 p. m.), while the fourth was at 2 o'clock this morning. They are as follows:

Stephen T. Smith, son of John and Mary Smith, 808 Kingsley st., died at 6 p. m. last evening. The funeral will take place Monday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, Northfield. Cause of death, consumption.

The second was that of Mrs. Elizabeth Redder, mother of Mrs. Shaw; died last evening at 6 o'clock at 821 Church st. The home of the deceased is in North Dakota.

The third was that of Miss Caroline Everest, died at 507 S. Division st. at 6 o'clock last evening. The funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow at 4 p. m.

The last was that of William T. Harris, junior medic, and a member of the Phi Rho Sigma fraternity. The remains will be taken to Kalamazoo for burial. Cause of death, tuberculosis meningitis.

Thomas Thurman, deputy sheriff of Troy, Mo., says if everyone in the United States should discover the virtue of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the demand could not be supplied. W. N. Salisbury.

Jack to the boys at college ten them

"Another pause, then:

"'Oh, will you—you—hurry, Jim! Only three minutes left—and—I won't bolt. I can't—bolt—I—'

"But then an angel came down. And then angel and hero left me there alone."

THE REVISED SCHEDULE OF THE U. OF M. DATE S.

The Times herewith presents the revised baseball schedule. All other schedules heretofore published are incorrect:

May 27, Northwestern at Ann Arbor. May 30, Wisconsin at Detroit. June 1, Beloit at Ann Arbor. June 3, Cornell at Ithaca. June 5, Lafayette at Easton. June 6, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. June 10, Notre Dame at Ann Arbor. June 16, Cornell at Ann Arbor. June 17, Cornell at Grand Rapids.

This is the bee's basket, and into it, after a successful journey, he will cram enough pollen to last him for two or three days.

Waste of Water.

In Philadelphia an experiment was recently made to determine the waste of water in the city. A test was made on the houses in two streets, which included nearly 600 inhabitants. It was found that 179 gallons of water per inhabitant were expended, it cannot be said used. This is about four barrels for each person, manifestly a great waste. Of the 179 gallons only 24 gallons were utilized.

To Prevent Sleep Walking.

A device to prevent sleep-walking is to lay upon the floor, by the side of the somnambulist's bed, a sheet of iron, zinc or other metal, wide enough to insure that he will step upon it. When the sleep-walking fit comes upon him his foot touches the cold surface of the metal and he instinctively draws that leg into the bed again. After two or three attempts the somnambulist gives it up and settles down to bed.

An Agricultural Exhibit.

Mr. J. B. Klechen, a member of the executive committee, has been placed in charge of the Agricultural exhibit at the Greater America exposition in Omaha, and $20,000 has been set aside for the payment of cash premiums for county displays in this department. There will be twenty-five prizes, ranging from $400 to $1,000, and every county making a creditable display will receive at least $200. A GOOD APPEARANCE

IT is true that appearances are often deceiving and it is equally true that appearances have considerable influence, and success or failure in life is sometimes traceable to making a good or a poor appearance.

It is an undeniable fact that a well made stylish suit of clothes will invariably produce a favorable impression upon the beholder, but it is the outrageously high prices of the average merchant tailor have heretofore proven a barrier.

The time has, however, arrived when the public, or at least that portion of the public appreciating good clothes, can obtain them at prices within the reach of all. L. C. GOODRICH has satisfactorily demonstrated to hundreds of good dressers that high grade stylish garments does not necessarily mean EXPENSIVE garments.

Our elegant assortment of Spring and summer goods, embracing over 500 of the most stylish patterns is now ready for your inspection, and we invite the patronage of those who are willing to be convinced that good fit, finish and fabric are obtainable at moderate prices.

The Detroit, Ann Arbor & Ypsilanti electric road is having all kinds of trouble with people who secure permission to move houses across their tracks from the board of public works. The case of Ald. Rohde is well remembered. Lately the board gave Andrew E. Gibson the right to move his house to another part of the city. The wires of the company were cut at a point on the local service and the house is being moved towards the street or which the Detroit line is. The railway company took out an injunction yesterday afternoon restraining Mr. Gibson from crossing the tracks. Now if the injunction holds good, the house is stuck in the mud. The house can neither be moved forward nor backward, and the result is the city would be badly blocked on that certain street. The railroad, it is understood, will soon apply for a general injunction restraining the board from granting any more of such permissions.

TROUBLE NOT MENTIONED.

THE STATE BOARD DID ONLY ROUTINE
BUSINESS.

BOARD MEMBERS EVEN ATTENDED
SENIOR RECEPTION.

Yesterday afternoon was held the meeting of the state board of education,
at which it had been expected that Dr.
Boone's difficulty would be settled. To the surprise and, it is suspected, regret also of the curiosity mongers of the state, is heard the news that the matter was not even mentioned. There was considerable routine business to be transacted, and the meeting was one of the most quiet and harmonious of the year. The board members refused to talk on the subject, saying that enough had already gone into the press.

The result, or rather the lack of results of the board meeting, has caused great jubilation among the friends of Dr. Boone, although those opposed to his remaining in the school say that the matter is but postponed to a time when public feeling is not so concerned in the matter. The personal relations of Dr.
Boone and the entire state board continue of the most pleasant, the board attending in a body a reception given by the president and his wife last evening to the senior class.

ALFRED LUCKING'S ADDRESS.

Yesterday afternoon in High School hall, Alfred Lucking, of Detroit, addressed students and citizens upon the subject, "Lights and Shades in a Lawyer's Life." Mr. Lucking was accompanied by his friend and business partner, Mayor Maybury, of Detroit, who,
at the close of the address of the afternoon, was induced to make a few remarks.

Mr. Lucking called attention to the difficulties which constantly beset the path of him who struggles through the labyrinthine way of the law. The lawyer's work is a most curious assortment of light and shade, trials and pleasures, momentary failures and trifling successes, but if he perseveres to the end and maintains his guiding principles of "integrity" and "hard work," his reward will be forthcoming. A lawyer is essentially a trader on the foibles of his fellows, and in the pursuit of his vocation he encounters many strange and amusing incidents. Frequently, also, his peace of mind is entirely destroyed,
at a time, by circumstances partaking of a most disagreeable nature.

Mr. Lucking places great confidence in the efficacy of the "work habit," as a factor in the struggle for success in the world. "How many men there are," he said, "whom all recognize as persons of sterling character, of uncommon native talent, but who are absolute failures in their profession, simply because they know not how to work. For this reason I sincerely pity the man who is born

"One Good Turn Deserves Another."

It is so easy to go through life doing good and helping to make others happy. A lady who had been ill with a complication of troubles,
having been thoroughly cured
and now enjoying perfect health, felt it a duty to tell her friends that the specific that brought her back to health was Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Thus, after Hood's had served her well, she felt it deserved a good turn at her hands. Thousands tell the same story of blood purified and health restored. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses merit peculiar to itself.

Catarh—"I suffered over six years with catarh. Spent over $100 in advertised cures, inhalers etc., without benefit. Finally tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and it accomplished a complete and lasting cure." M. A.
Abbey, Victor Ave., Worcester, Mass.

Castro—"Nervousness caused by a fright made my wife suffer intensely from gastritis. Morphine was necessary to relieve the suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills were tried after all else failed and in four days she improved and in 14 days she was cured." C. W. T. SCHMIDT, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Blood Poison—"At 12 I had bone disease and used crutches. Doctor prescribed and wanted to scrape it. My grandfather gave me Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking four bottles I threw away crutches, am well and go to school." CHARLES CAMPBELL, 1516
Ontario Ave., Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Dizzy Spells—"After the measles my daughter had dizzy spells, which we thought would pass off but they did not until we gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla. In five days they disappeared and in one month she regained her usual health." B. H. KAMPER-BECK, 53 Graves Place, Holland, Mich.

Indigestion—"I now have a good appetite, eat well, sleep well and my dyspepsia and indigestion have left me. The reason is I took Hood's Sarsaparilla which entirely cured me. I am Baggage Master on the B. & O. Railroad." THOMAS COLES, 119 Carr St., Sandusky, Ohio.

WORK OF A TORNADO.

Buildings Blown Down and Several Persons Injured in the Vicinity of River Falls, Wis.

River Falls, Wis., May 27.—A well-developed tornado struck this city a few minutes after six o'clock Friday afternoon. It seems to have had its inception in the Fourth ward of the city, where, after making the proper cyclonic revolutions, it reached down from a black cloud and picked up Michael Linehan's barn, tossed it about and landed it upside down. It then gyrated up South Fork valley. In George T. Smith's brick yard sheds were demolished and considerable damage done. A small building used for the employees was wrecked, the inmates seeking refuge in the cellar and escaping injury. Half a mile further up the valley a large barn on the farm of C. B. Burnett was scattered over half a section of land, the dwelling house fortunately escaping.
The same is true of Maj. Burnett's place across the road, where a very large barn was destroyed.

Harvey Veydt, about 16 years old, was caught in the whirl at the brick yard and had ribs broken. Johnnie Deis, aged about 14, who was with him, was struck by some flying missile and had his back punctured. Another boy is said to have been hurt, but particulars are not at hand. The injuries to young Veydt and Deis are painful but not considered serious. Large trees were twisted off or uprooted. The cloud was funnel-shaped and maintained the well-defined outlines on its way up the valley for some three miles, when it began to move to the north and finally detached itself from the earth. The movement was from west to east and was quite slow. The phenomenon was witnessed by nearly all our citizens. Its path was narrow, and, while it varied, did not exceed 20 rods.

Omaha, Neb., May 27.—A special to the Bee from Bancroft, Neb., says: A rainstorm visited this section Thursday night that did thousands of dollars' of damage. For about two hours it rained in torrents. A great deal of the corn is washed out, fences and even buildings on low ground have been carried away by the flood. Just south of town August Blow is minus 25 head of cattle supposed to have been drowned. The report comes from seven miles southwest of this place that Peter Myers, wife and one child and Mrs. Jerome Pfamm were drowned while attempting to cross Conney creek.

Can Have Their Choice.
Washington, May 27.—The secretary of war Friday sent the following cablegram to Gen. Otis:

"Many petitions are received to have Washington and Oregon troops sent direct to Puget Sound and Portland. This can be done if the men wish it. It will deprive them of the $25 to $35 each for travel pay from San Francisco. Let a vote be taken with this knowledge by the regiments and advise me."

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

An Outline of the Proceedings of the Second Day's Session in Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 27.—There was much less applause and enthusiasm in the Y. M. C. A. international convention Friday than Thursday, though there was a large attendance at all sessions and deep interest was manifested in the work. At the morning session the subject of discussion was "Forces Which Are Destroying Young Men," and it was subdivided.
Anthony Comstock's topic was "Impurity," and his address was devoted mainly to a description of the work of the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice, which, he said, must have financial assistance at once in order to maintain its usefulness. He was followed by Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the Christian Advocate, who spoke of "Rationalism," which he considered a dangerous force, but not nearly so bad
as impurity or intemperance.

At the afternoon session the convention was divided into three conferences, one of which, led by W. D. Murray, of New York, discussed "Bible Study." Another, led by Bruno Hobbs, of Kansas City, considered "Religious Meetings," and a third, led by S. M.
Sayford, of Boston, discussed "Personal Work" for an hour.

The Auditorium was crowded again at the evening session, which was devoted to reports from field secretaries, men who have charge of the work in various parts of the world, describing their progress and mentioning the obstacles encountered.

A Successful Trip.
New York, May 27.—The automobile
carriage containing Alexander Winton and Mr. Shinks arrived at the city hall from Cleveland, O., at 5:45 p. m. Friday.
The mayor was unable to remain at his office so late, and the message will be delivered this morning. The automobile left Cleveland at six o'clock Monday morning, making the trip in 4 days 11 hours and 45 minutes, covering the distance of 707 4-10 miles in two days better than was hoped by the owner.

Not Guilty.
Kankakee, Ill., May 27.—Sidney
Ringo (colored) was found not guilty
Friday of the murder of Mr. and Mrs.
Emil Chiniquy at Stanne, last October.
The principal evidence of the state came from a Chicago detective and four of his confederates, who swore that Ringo had confessed to the crime. This testimony is claimed to have been perjured.
The alleged perjurers are in jail in default of $5,000 bail.

prostration; Dr. Miles' Nervine cures them.
